Project take-off in Portugal

First diary entry: Matosinhos, Portugal – 22nd and 23rd January 2019. Ouroute expedition starts. 2 days of intense debate and fine-tuning of the project activities led to a detailed plan on next steps. The kick-off meeting was very fruitful and allowed partners to go through the full work plan, share experiences with invited guests and embark into a cultural challenge to the amazing and historical city of Porto.

ouRoute goes to Brussels

ouRouters went to Brussels (on the 4th and 5th February 2019) and participated in the coordinators meeting of social inclusion projects. Every year, the Executive Agency for Education and Culture organises an event where coordinators of projects approved can network and meet with experienced project officers of the European Commission. INOVA+ went on behalf of ouRoute consortium.

Start of the research activities

CESIE is supervising the research activities performed in partners' countries (Italy, Spain, Poland and Portugal). A mixed and participatory approach is planned and includes surveys, interviews and focus group to key players. But this is not a common research process. You know why? Students will have access to training and will lead the process, mapping their local old and new arts and crafts! We can't wait to see the amazing results...
